

Getting here

Barbados is one of the best serviced destinations in the Caribbean with daily flights from most international cities. With a large international Class 1 airport, Barbados is the jewel of the Caribbean in international travel. It is indeed a major hub for travellers to the Caribbean, whether for business or pleasure, with flights to and from the United States, Canada, England and Europe, as well as inter-connecting flights to the various countries within the Caribbean.

From England and Europe

Virgin Atlantic offers a daily service from London and two flights on Sundays.

British Airways arrives daily and twice on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

From the US

For those of you arriving from the US, American Airlines offers a daily service from Miami and direct from New York on Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays. US Airways flies into Barbados on Saturday and Delta Airlines on Mondays, Fridays and Sundays.

The Trinidad-based Caribbean Airlines and Air Jamaica also service Barbados from the United States. You can check their websites for their schedules.
