

Apartments & Apartment Hotels

Apartments for short-term rentals are always available. Apartment hotels, with their own kitchenettes, are also an option and many of these establishments can be found on both the South and West Coasts.

With your own kitchenette, you can enjoy breakfast on the verandah before you prepared for yourself at the start of the day – whatever time that may be. You can also fix yourself a picnic lunch and head to the beach or one of the parks we have around the island. This is also a great way to try your hand at some of those Bajan recipes with which you would like to impress your friends when you return home.